[Frem Our Regular Correspondent.] Washington, D. C., December 7.— The members of both houses of Congress seemed inclined to devote to-day to a The House adjourned over yesterday until to-morrow and the Senate held a very short session this morning.

The President's message, of course, hotels last night and praise and condemnation were freely poured out, according to the political taste of the orator. The general verdict seemed to be that the President has gone further than was expected, from conciliatory speech of Speaker Carlisle, and that Mr. Randall and those who agree with him have reason to be disapcointed at the tenor of the message. But it is not believed that there will be serious schism in the party. Mr. Car-lisle and Mr. Randall represent the two wings of the party in the House, and if they can agree on a tariff measure—as they probably can do in the spirit of compromise manifested by the speech of the Speaker-there is, it is thought, no doubt of its unanimous acceptance by the Democrats of the House and its apwal by the President should it pass the Senate.

THE FIFTIEFH CONGRESS.

Washington, December 7, 1887. Senate.

A letter from the Secretary of the Interior was laid before the Senate stating that an appropriation of $77,405 is required to complete the publication of the final report on the census of 1880, four of the twenty-two volumes being still unprinted. Laid on the table.

After the presentation of various other communications from the heads of departments and the Court of Claims Mr. Cullom remarked that the rule was Mr. Cullom remarked that the rule was when bills are introduced before the committees are appointed to have such tills laid on the table, and that created nnnecessary work. He therefore moved that the Senate adjourn. But he withdrew the motion temporarily to permit R. C. F. Moncare, Jr. Rev. T. C. Page, rector of the church, officiated. The church was filled to overflowing. The church was filled to overflowing. The information as to whether any person in the employment of that department making experiments as to the manufac-ture of sugar from sorghum had obconnected with such manufacture and growing out of such experiment. The resolution was adopted.

PHILADELPHIA, December 7.—Five "bucket-shop" stock exchanges were raided by the police to-day and their owners arrested and held to bail in $800 to introduce a bill to perpetuate the national-bank system.

Mr. Cullom declined, stating that he made the motion because he understood it to be the custom of the Senate not to the senate not to be the custom of the Senate not to the senate not t receive bills until after the appointment

Mr. Harris thought there was great wisdom in the position taken by the Senator (Cullom). If the door was thrown open he would insist that there should be no restrictions on the right.

Mr. Farwell thereupon withdrew his request, and the motion was acreed to.
